PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

This renovated cabin originally built in 1928 sits on the banks of Hackett Creek and is currently a nightly vacation rental. It's a special place with lots of warm wood floors, a toe warming fireplace with propane stove insert, knotty pine walls in a comfortable setting above the creek. Walk through the french doors to a private deck and hottub area right next to the creek. Watch the fish and birds in the wooded setting out your door. There are two bedrooms upstairs. One has bunk beds for extra guests and there is a mini loft for kids in one bedroom. A spacious bathroom has a washer and dryer area too. The kitchen is cozy with built in bench for eating. The property is about a third of an acre with tall trees on a paved road. It shares a well with a neighbor and has a septic. It's only about twenty minutes to ski areas and close to the Mt. Hood National Forest for thousands of miles of hiking trails. Only one hour from Portland!
